this might sound dumb but the less you charge me, the more i'm going to tip you - if you charge me $180-$200 for a wade trip, then yeah i might hit you with a $50, but if i'm paying you $400+ then i'm going to give you $30 and probably resent that.

having seen guide prices on the Cape and Bahamas go to $450+ per angler, I think they're already taking the piss, so a tip would just irritate me more.

In MA, Maine, Labrador, Newfoundland and Virginia (not to mention Ireland) to can get a day for a $150-$180 all in.

And don't start me on lodges - $4k a week and they want a tip too...
