

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Guide Tipping

Re: Guide Tipping

Author: : boychick

Date: : 2013/7/24 12:57:42

URL:

Quote:

Plan on $50 per man. Add or subtract from there based on effort.

I agree with PK. When I went out to Jackson Hole last summer I asked several guide friends of mine how much I should tip for the couple of floats I went on, their advice was start with $100 per trip and adjust from there based on the guides effort and your experience. I had good experiences so I tipped $100 per trip.

Almost all guides are independant contractors. They get a small piece of what you pay the outfitter for the trip, but most of the fee goes to the outfitter. The guides pretty much depend on tips to make their living.

I hope that helps.