Tips are always a touchy subject. I never hired a guide so I don't know what is the acceptable amount. I would think that a total tip of $100 per party per day would be suffice. I'm assuming there are multiple people within one party. If I was by myself I would only tip $50 and feel good about it. I don't think anyone gets into the guide profession to get rich. So if a guide makes an extra $100 (in cash) a day, that is good money considering he probably guides 5 days a week in season.
