Thanks for the help. I parked at Browns Rd and yes, it is very deep above the bridge. I saw fish rising in the calm water up stream, but could not get in a position to cast to them properly. I did not realize how tight it is there. Water temp was around 50 and not another person there. Drove around some, but I'm not sure that is my kind of stream, as I do like to make a regular cast. Otherwise all that practice in the front yard was pointless. 😊
