I have only 2 such "fishing shirts", collared button down thingies with caped back, chest pockets, mesh liner etc. One's a light green short sleeve, one's a light khaki long sleeve. The long sleeve one is nicer, better material. But I would prefer a darker foresty color. This thing is sand colored and meant for fishing the flats or something, not a mountain trout stream. Even the green one is too light.

I'd prefer camo. :)

Got em both for christmas, both Cabela's guide series thingies. Sizing was fine. I wear a lot of t-shirts and golf shirts, wear an XL. XL fit me here too.
