@proformance I believe u mentioned about Lake Arthur, it definitely is one if the premier musky lakes in the state. It's actually my. "home lake" as I fish it regularly, have been for years, never for Musky though. From what I understand its a tough lake to fish for the toothies. I have my bass spots and my hybrid spots, however with no boat it's tough to fish due to its size at least for Musky. I would be down for a musky jam, if someone has a boat I will cast all day for sure!
