Only a half hour difference and that changes things? Come on, man!!! (Just joking with you...but if you planned on spending the day fishing, might as well make it a good one!!)

Once you fall in love with it, I'd bet you'll be willing to drive 3 or 4 hours just to get to a decent stream (or maybe that's just me living where I do and missing Central PA streams...).

Either way, good luck and I hope you get hooked on this as well. This season is the first year I've gone "all in" on fly fishing, and I've loved every minute of it.
