I have fished the Codorus several times per year for the last 4 years or so, and I have never really noticed a significant increase (or decrease) in flow from anything other than rain. I have been skunked there, but I do not attribute it to release.

As some of you may know, the Gunpowder is my home water. The water is consistently cold, and although my evidence is purely anecdotal, I do not find that the fishing is any better or worse during a release. I catch fish there when the flow is 55 cfs, or 90 cfs or 135cfs.
