

---

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : New here, and I have a request for anyone in the Mount Pocono area

Re: New here, and I have a request for anyone in the Mount Pocono area

Author: : snakeman21

Date: : 2013/7/26 13:28:22

URL:

[QUOTE]by Heritage-Angler on 2013/7/26 10:07:54

Is the Mahoning Valley exit of the turnpike too far for you to drive? If it's OK, I'll give you directions to meet up.

Been about 10 years since I fished the Toby. We could do that, but I like my choice much better.

The morning is OK with me. How's 9AM sound?[/QUOTE]

Is the exit you're referring to the one by Rte 209? That's still a little further than I was hoping to go, but is certainly doable.

Well, I talked to my wife, she does indeed have to work on Sunday. She needs to leave by 11:20, so I'd need to be back by then. So 9am is a little tight. It'll take me 40 minutes each way, so that would leave us an hour and 40 minutes from 9:00 until 10:40. Not exactly much of a fishing day.

Personally, I usually get up at the crack of dawn or just before it on Sundays so I have a good 5 or 6 hours of fishing before I have to go home and watch my daughter. So unless you don't mind being an early bird like me, it might be better for the both of us to do it a different day. Saturday mornings are usually good for me. Occasionally, I can do weekday mornings if I know in advance.

I love my daughter to death, but it's real hard to find time to myself anymore lol. I can't wait till she's old enough to just come with me.