

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Big native!

Re: Big native!

Author: : Dcap240

Date: : 2013/7/28 15:24:24

URL:

I read an article a while back about a pfbc electro study in NEPA class A wild trout streams and they claimed a stream in carbon county held a 19 1/2in. native brookie! There were also a few in the 15-16 in range as well. It was a Lehigh tributary that held the big one. I guess it's possible with the right conditions. The right food source and or they become meat eaters and start eating other minnows it could and does happen. I'm gunna try to find the article if I do I will post it.