

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : High Water Streamer Flies and Tactics

Re: High Water Streamer Flies and Tactics

Author: : JeffK

Date: : 2013/7/28 20:55:03

URL:

4 to 6 Slumpbusters are a fine choice, but plenty of people are using 5" to 7" articulated streamers - and not just on the Delaware. You can be surprised in your local water. Slow water next to the bank is the usual suspect, but back channels and the slow water behind islands are also good. My one suggestion is to cover ground. The big guys are on the prowl or they aren't, so you want to get as many chances as possible.

It is one form of trout fishing where even the follows can get your heart pounding.