Heading to the outer banks in a few weeks, and I am considering renting a kayak with my brother for the week. I beat up on smaller blues last year just standing in the surf, but would I benefit by renting the kayak and getting out a bit further? 12-16" blues are entertaining, but I wouldnt mind something with a bit more tuggage.Im not looking to paddle the kayak out a mile, more or less stay within 200 yards of the beach. For you knowlegdeable surf guys, would this be a benefit or null? Thanks.

Patrick

p.s. I spin fish when Im down there, so casting distance shouldnt be factored into the decision.
