

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : For those who float...

For those who float...

Author: : MrMustard

Date: : 2013/7/29 14:59:35

URL:

After reading a recent stream report on a Yough float trip, I've been giving some serious consideration to getting a pontoon. I'd rather not invest a ton of money into a boat, and I have actually been looking at one (online) for a bit, but have no experience with a toon yet.

I would mostly be floating the Yough from Ramcat to Ohiopyle, with a few possible trips to the Clarion as well. Realistically, and unfortunately, with my schedule I would be looking at a potential of 3-6 floats a year at most.

Do those of you that have experience think this boat could handle the Yough? Does anyone have any other recommendations?

Boat

It seems to have good reviews, but I'm worried it may be too much on the cheap-side. I've floated the yough once in an inflatable kayak and definitely had a few bumps along the way.