L, I really don't need another rod, but remembered seeing these a number of years ago and even tried one at Yellow Breeches Outfitters, but can't really remember how it felt. I was surprised they were still around, so I thought they must have done OK. I just wondered if anyone here had experience fishing them. "IF" I were looking, it would be in an 8', 4 or 5wt version. Real bamboo in that length is too heavy for my liking. I realize they are "fake bamboo", there are cheaper rods in that length and on and on, but I like the look of bamboo, fake or otherwise and I'm old enough not to care what that might say about me. 😊
