I purchased my hex back in the late 90's. It's a medium action 8' 1/2 5wt use it for fishing wet flies for a good many years before the bamboo bug bit me. I still fish with it on occasion especially when I want to throw a full sinking line. I always thought it was a good buy and fished well. Yes, a little on the heavy side, but balanced out with my Hardy Princess reel you can fish with it all day and not have a sore shoulder.
