After dunking just one rod and you're going to come up with a plan?

You can use an old gym bag. Put dividers in it and Velcro it to your boat. Last year, I almost built a little pvc rack with a cord over the top to keep the rods secure. I'd have to remove it everytime we stacked the boats so I scratched that idea.

If you make something for your rear deck to hold all of the crap we take (12 fly boxes, beer, rain gear, emergency kit, etc), you can use the bag on the left side to hold your rods. Should be able to carry 3 rods w/o any issues.
