If your looking to buy a new boat or pontoon, take a look at sea eagle, <http://www.seaeagle.com/FramelessPontoonBoats.aspx>, they have good products and may have something you would like. I have one of the se9 boats and I like it. I haven't had it on the water that much due to health problems but it is rated for, I think, class 3 white water without the floor boards, and with the floor in it it is very stable and easy to handle. Their pontoons look very nice and maybe a step above some of the other offerings out there.

Best of luck

Sam
