check out the eastern mountain sports packs if they are 1/3 the quality of the two older ones i have they are bullet proof and or comfy. and keep an eye for there returned stuff used to be a section of the store but now they mix it in, i bought my 5500 c.i. pack for $45 because it was returned and had a tear in the water bottle holder mesh.

also dakine ski snowboard products make some better priced a bit lower quality gear as well.

and if you dont settle on anything before you get to lthaca, there is a great hiking/packing store right down in the commons, great service is to be had and also a really great selection form a local store as well. sorry i cant remember the name of the place but that's where my mrs's kelty pack came from.
