Pat, The lateral line is clearly visible on the brookies in the OP. There are lines of red spots below the lateral line on both fish.

On your fish there are also red spots below the lateral line.

In look at fish I've caught the are various spot or bar patterns on the dorsel fin, including one that is clearly checkered with spots inside the checks. Isnce I'm not working on my pc I can't say what the fish look lie that I caught in the ANF or in SW PA. That will have to wait.
