Was a good day for me today. Caught my first ever wild brookie at Camp Run then ran into Kooser Lake right down the road. Figured I'd try for some panfish and have some fun.

This guy was cruising the shallows and just tossed the green weenie over him a few times and he took on the 3rd try.

Was a fun little fight on the 8' 4WT.

Not a huge fish, but my first ever pickerel as well, was a nice cap off to the day and two fish I'd never caught before...
