The best advice I can give you is don't listen to anything Krayfish says! Before you know he'll have you talked into a drift boat, Scadden toon and probably some other product I've never even heard of.

I know as I now have an 8' Bucks Bags Southfork and a Scadden Assault XXX thanks to him. It's not wonder his day job is to work in sales!

On the other hand he is right, buying a good quality boat is worth it. The yough is a good time but can be rough on equipment. Save up and buy the best you can get and keep your eyes open on ebay and craigslist as they do pop up. I'd recommend Bucks Bags, FishCat/Outcast, and NFO (Dave Scadden) products. Have used or been around all of em and they are all good quality boats.

Good luck!
