

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Bass and such

Re: Bass and such

Author: : dc410

Date: : 2013/8/6 6:28:03

URL:

I tie my own bass leaders and try to keep it real simple. Mine are generally about 7' long. I use 3' of 40 lb test Maxima, 2' of 20 lb test fluorocarbon and then about 2' of whatever size tippet seems right (generally about 2X for me). I use blood knots for the connections between sections. However, I have lately become a fan of the surgeons knot which is a very quick knot to tie and seems just as strong if not stronger than the blood knot.