Appreciate all of the feedback/suggestions! Glad folks are enjoying the tale of the monster!

Here is the latest:

Round 5

Went out late this afternoon - cloudy with some drizzle here in Southern York County - started with a Royal Wulff and a BHPT dropper - landed a 8" brownie on my first cast. I continued and the monster hit the BHPT only to immediately spit it out. A few casts later there was a first - she actually went for the Wulff...although it was just a tease...she just wanted to show herself, laugh at me and then dive deep never to be seen again...at least for today. And so the game of cat and mouse continues.

I did end up changing flies a few times but I think she was on to me after rising to the Wulff...

I went with 4X this time.
