I buy one size bigger than I would in a regular shirt and the resulting bagginess allows for some ventilation.

I would suggest against this unless you like the look of MC Hammer pants as sleeves...

I don't really care for these shirts too much. I call them fly tier shirts since they always wear them but I rarely see people that actually fish wear them...

TLoom...what's your size? I accumulated a few of these in a craigslist lot of stuff...I'll mail you one if you like.
