I flew this summer with a backpack, carry on roller, and one rod tube no problems. One guy on my flight was carrying 3 or 4 of the old metal tubes for 2 and 3 piece bamboo rods. I checked my waders and sling pack inside of another bag, but there shouldn't be a problem with that either. Any tools must be 7 inches or less in length so that probably means no fly tying vise or big ass hemo's but other than that you'll be fine.
