

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Little Juniata, Huntingdon Co, 8-4-13

Re: Little Juniata 8-4-13

Author: : David

Date: : 2013/8/9 9:02:15

URL:

Quote:

turkey wrote:

Quote:

David wrote:

Buzz... sting!

I actually did get stung there last year with Albatross. Honey bee was hitchhiking on my vest and I rested my forearm on him. Arm swelled up good but the bee got the worst of it.

That can be scary... swelling up knowing you'd have a long hike out to get help. Glad you are ok!

Albie actually gave me a bee as part of my winnings for the PAFF fantasy football one year. I was working way upriver and got caught in a short torrential downpour. After the rain stopped there was that typical mudline from shore to about 3 feet out. I pounded that line with the bee and got a good number fish. It wasn't the first time a bee imitation worked just in that manner...