phriend ... I recommend going with a Cabelas branded rod. The more experienced can you u some suggestions and I'd advise trying one out but per warranty ... I snapped two. Each time I called and went back (abt 20 miles west of LL), no receipt (each time), and they replaced it with ease. The 2nd time they didn't have the same model and gave me something equivalent to the model I had. Big fan of their and u can get into something w/out spending a lot.
