With the cooler summer Caldwell may fish, but I'd try to take a temp if you can. I've only fished it once (and got skunked) so I'm not of much help. Fished the WB the same day and only managed one of the stocked fingerlings which must have swam up from the main branch. I agree with OilCreekKid, if Caldwell doesn't work out then maybe try some brookie streams or fish for bass on the Allegheny and other warmwater streams.
