What!? I don't like those odds. That's more black bear attacks than I would have thought. Dang it! I better arm up when I'm in the Smokey's this Fall. What's up w/ Canadian black bear attacks, also...bears breaking into houses and cabins to attack people? Dang.

People being careless. Always make some noise in the woods, and if things suddenly get quiet, make more noise. Whistle and if you can't, carry one.

Good advice, but even better advice would be that if you are from the city and are afraid of bears, stay in the city and just watch it on TV.

I like to walk in the woods is for the peace and quiet and to see wildlife. If I am making a lot of noise, how much wildlife would I expect to see?

Just sayin...

People suck, animals do not, ...at least not until they are influenced by sucky people.
