Rest assured....20 Mile Creek will be packed with the 200,000 forum lurkers tomorrow 😊

Normally, the Miles creeks don't even have enough flow to connect to the lake this time of year. So, it's good that there are even any flows. No doubt they are moving in and out of the creeks with these cool night. There are plenty of fish being caught at the creeks mouths from the guys on boats.

The time is coming. Be patient. We still need some rain. I would not make a 6 hour trip up to Erie just yet. 😊
Soon folks....very soon!
