I'm always up for going with someone, and that's what it's all about is learning. I usually go somewhere fishing though in the spur of a moment. It sure surprised the crap out of me. And I knew there was no way to land that beast. At least on 6x. I did leave out the part of the story that I tied on a 2' extension on my Tippet to make it 6' with a double surgeons knot. Anyone care to guess where it broke? And looking at the other link of the big fish he was that big.
