Here's the flat I fished two or three years ago. I don't know if this is typical of the rest of the island as I didn't see much. The bones were close to shore as I suspect it was high tide (bonefish usually forage close to shore during high tide). They were tailing in about a foot of water but didn't like my flies. I was wading in shorts and do recall that out at the end of the pier in this pic I got some jellyfish sting on my legs.
Wish I had more time on that trip - beautiful area.
