I've been Fly Fishing for over a year now, I love it. I am looking to replace a fiberglass 5-6 wt Fenwick of my Pop's that I broke when I was a kid. Pop bought them thinking he might take up fly fishing, well a few dozen years later he has the time.

This rod may have been a 3 piece, I can get more info if you guys can tell me where too look, We still have the aluminum tube and the kilt lookin' sock. We also have the 7-8 wt Rod, tube and sock. I think they where the same year and model just different wt's. Knowing the old man as well as I do, I know fiberglass is perfect for him, and replacing the Trout portion of his fly rod duo would be sweet if I can pull it off.
