I'm currently caught between the Umpqua Ledges 650 and the Simms Headwaters Pro waistpack. Can anyone help me out with their opinions or personal experience. I want to be able to carry 2-3 fly boxes, water, snacks, cell phone, 4-5 tippet spools, thermometer, hemos, nippers, indicators, split shot. I have a smaller chestpack now but looking for a waistpack for steelhead season where I walk long distances and carry lots of gear.
