Pcray. You didn't answer the question! Haha. I see your point and that I suppose is why I have 2 "cheap" rods for Erie. I enjoy Erie trib fishing so much and think about it so often. I also spend too much time researching and reading about the newest and coolest rods and I just simply want one! Sometimes for me the planning and buying gear part is as much fun as the actual trip. Well.. Maybe not as much fun. But it sure passes the time between trips.
