Nicely done. Before you know it you'll be selling that spinning rod! Keep an eye on the Beginner's forum, we hold several "newbie" events every year. We teach casting, fly selection, etc at no cost. We mostly do these events at the Little Lehigh which would not be too much of a trip for you. I believe we will be holding one in the fall. Some of the newbies on the forum can chime in as to whether it is worth the time or not but I would doubt you'd get anyone to say it isn't worth it.

Tight Lines.
