I don't like a rod over 9'6" for Erie tribs. My peeve is when landing fish the longer rods do not allow you to handle the fish without the rod tip bending imo too much. I've seen a lot of broken tips because of that. Also spending more than $300 is a waste because if you spend a lot of time swinging flies, or streamers the cone heads/weights take there tool on the rod finish.

just my 2 ct's
