Do you have trouble let with the cdc and elk caddis landing upside down when you cast it? I tied a couple recently, but they always want to land with the deer hair side down, so I've stopped fishing them. Of course I can't rule out the possibility that I'm tying them wrong...

+1 on the comment about the elk hair being nicely stacked. I had to look at it twice because at first it looked like it was cut with scissors at the end of the wing in order to get it so straight!
