I have a patch like dc on my bag. Sometimes they're already dry after just an hour or so. If that's the case (and I'm still fishing) I'll put the dry ones away the next time I get out my fly box for a new fly. Otherwise they get put away after I get home or before the next time I go fishing. I like the patch too because often times before an outing I'll pull out a half dozen flies I suspect I may use during the day and put them on there ahead of time...less trips into the bag to get the fly box out.

Bottom line, there's no real secret to dry them out, but just don't put them back in the box until they're dry! If you have some streamers or poppers that dried matted together, just fluff them up with your fingers and they'll be back to normal.
