

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Deer Hair Ant video

Re: Deer Hair Ant video

Author: : FrequentTyer

Date: : 2013/9/2 16:45:00

URL:

Nice pattern. I'm not sure you need to stack the butts. They should be relatively even when cut from the hide, and a bit of trimming should be all you need. A tip you might want to consider is loosely spiraling the thread back to the bend after the initial tie in. This maintains the air pockets in the hair and adds a bit of buoyancy. I also use this method on deer hair beetles and stimulators.

Thanks for posting the video,

Mike.