Saw the construction signs. Nobody working on off hours and days. Marked at 45 but ran it at 55+ no worries as long as it's not an active zone and work taking place. Been like that since at least Memorial Day weekend. Just keep it to 5 over whatever the normal speed limit is and it's a non issue. I guess if the construction bothers you, you can always run up to Reedsvill at 655 and run that west over in to Mill Ck but that always seems like such a long haul and if your doing it at night... It can be like dodge deer alley.
