Yes carbon county. I don't wanna give away my spot exactly but it is a few miles downstream of the tannery bridge. The tannery bridge is a good spot as well and if you follow black creek downstream to the river that is usually a good spot also. All I will say about my spot is it right near two icy cold tribs and fish usually hold right near the mouth of the first one. (if you know the area well you probably know what I'm talking about).
