Let's just ask what is reasonable. The answer is 5 or less. If you want to take 8 trout as an individual angler, then you should take a couple weeks off. Stop the greed. The rest of us have to worry about harvest effects so others paying the same for their license can take 60 trout per season. That's BS. 5 is enough. I have spoken.

What ever happened to "limit your harvest, don't harvest your limit?" It is a social ethic, not a biological management technique. Does that make it bad?
