Could care less what he said, mario66pens was talk'n bout the tailwater. Far as the Lake goes. It's best fished from a boat that is set up to fish that lake with somebody run'n it that knows the lake somewhat. I have a few friends that are set up to do it and they live a life of frustration chase'n big stripers. Oh, don't get me wrong. They catch some now n then but, it's a tuffy. Best to know someone with a boat that knows the water or hire a guide for a day. It costs a bit but it does payoff in fish.
