Seriously, I dont think i could bring myself to use it, I would end up scratching the hell out if it. Im way too hard on everything I own. after a bit if googling I think its a 2/3. And for the story of willow reels some guy imports them, and they are all hand made by a retired korean areo-space engineer, and ill give it to that guy, he is a seriously talented machineist.

Gfen- im sorry it may not be in the best taste to use it to fund other fishing stuff, but I feel it would be better put to use by some one who wouldnt end up scratching the hell out of it.
