They aren't the best but here are some pics of the bag I purchased.

The water bottle is standard size, but the pouch will handle larger ones.

The boxes in the large compartment shown are 2 large size (4 x 8) and one smaller one. As you can see there is still more room for stuff.

The zipper just above the fly patch is for a pocket that holds 3 spools of tippet and a package of shot. The rounded pocket above that holds a bottle of Gink and a large pill bottle of flies.

(Did I mention in earlier post that I carry way too much stuff?)

There are also good attachment points on the strap and shoulder pad. I have attached a net keeper to the shoulder pad and have had no issues.
