
Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Proper decon to kill potentially invasive species

Re: Proper decon to kill potentially invasive species

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2013/9/11 15:37:04

URL:

http://www.fishandboat.com/water/habitat/ans/didymo/faq_didymo.htm

Cleaning instructions are on the above link. Generally, waders are pretty easy to wash. Even without felt, boots are still the danger, as even the uppers, laces, etc. take longer to dry and have lots of nooks and crannies which make cleaning more difficult. Some just have multiple pairs of boots and switch out.

To my knowledge, the only stream KNOWN to contain didymo up that way is big Pine. That said, we're just getting a handle on it, and it's likely more streams have it than is known.