The dams on the Salmon R cut off about 3 miles of river to an impassable falls. BTW, Salmon R Falls is a cool place to visit if the fishing is slow. I don't think there are any major tribes in that 3 miles. The historic major spawning tribes, like Trout, Orwell, and John O'Hara Brooks are still open to the lake.

I wonder about the success of the Penobscot dam removals. The Gulf of Maine rivers have still been showing declining populations when other areas are recovering. Let's hope it works though.
