Cool stuff salmonoid. I agree, both pairs of pics are of the same fish. I find it interesting the Tiger moved...It was in a nice run but it shared it with at least several other fish as I caught several other Brookies out of it, including a pretty nice one. The fish definitely has colored up a bit. I caught it after a period of high water which explains the washed out look it had when I caught it. I'm glad we got a better picture of it!

That's a really nice Brown too...look at that tail!
