agree with fred. but I also break out the 8 when on the beach. pick your days wisely. anything over fifteen mph wind its gonna suck. that's the reason why guys use a 10 and 12 wt for stripers. little guys are still fun on a 10. that being said I am still looking to get something over 12 pound out on jersey. did in marthas but not NJ yet. 20 wouldn't be bad either. that when a 10 really comes in handy.
also cant say enough about lamson reels if you are looking for a solid salt reel.
gonna be there sat night hopefully the beaches are full of mullet.
